Overview

• In Cambodia, most of persons with disabilities and landmine survivors live in rural communities; therefore, access to services related to physical, psychological, social and economic well-being is often difficult.

• The Royal Government of Cambodia recognizes CBR as an effective strategy to reduce the barriers of persons with disabilities.

• CBR plays important roles:
  • Improve the access to services and the enjoyment of the rights of persons with disabilities.
  • Improve the quality of life of victims survivors and other persons with disabilities.
  • Change people’s behaviour, attitude and views on disability.

Overview (Cont)

• Since 1992, the CBR Programs have been implemented in Cambodia by initiative of non-governmental organizations and international non-governmental organizations with the support and encouragement of the government.

• CBR activities are being implemented in 21 of Cambodia’s 24 provinces which are covered approximately 77 of 193 districts.

• Currently, 40 organisations are providing community based rehabilitation services.
