Seventeenth Meeting

Geneva, 26–30 November 2018

Item 9 (g) of the provisional agenda

Consideration of the general status and operation of the Convention
Transparency and the exchange of information

Status of Article 7 Reporting

Submitted by the President of the Seventeenth Meeting of the States Parties

I. Introduction

1. In accordance with Article 7 of the Convention, States Parties are obliged to submit annually updated information on the actions they are taking to implement the Convention.
2. Article 7 is a legal obligation for all States Parties. It is especially important that States Parties implementing core obligations under the Convention submit updated information annually and that this information be of a high quality. The submission of regular updated information provides an overview of the status of implementation of the Convention, including clarity on States Parties' achievements and remaining potential obstacles in implementation. This information is also essential for the Convention's Committees to fulfil their respective mandates and to carry out cooperative dialogue with the States Parties concerning implementation.
3. In addition, in the Maputo Action Plan 2014-2019, States Parties committed to take a number of actions related to transparency and the exchange of information in order to facilitate a dialogue based on accurate and high quality information in all areas of implementation of the Convention.
4. In 2018, 76 of the 161 States Parties that were required to provide transparency information in accordance with Article 7 have submitted a report. The 2018 overall reporting rate stands at just over 47 percent (slightly higher than 2017 at this time) and amongst the States Parties which have not provided reports in 2018 are States Parties which have key obligations to fulfil.
5. It is important that all States Parties continue to report updated information annually and it is particularly important for States Parties implementing key obligations to do so.

Key Convention provision	Number of concerned States Parties	Reporting rate in 2018
Mine clearance (Art.5)	31 ¹	90%
Stockpile destruction (Art.4)	3	100%
Victim assistance	29	75.8%
Retention of anti-personnel mines for permitted purposes (Art.3)	75	62%
National implementation measures (Art.9)	58	18.9%

6. States Parties which are not in the process of implementing core obligations under the Convention and/or that have no updated information to provide can make use of the simplified reporting tool so as to make reporting easier and quicker.

7. A number of tools have been developed over the years to facilitate reporting and to guide States Parties in the process of preparing Article 7 reports. States Parties are encouraged to make use of these tools as well as seek the support of the Implementation Support Unit.

II. Status of reporting²

A. Initial reports

8. Three States Parties have yet to submit their initial reports in accordance with Article 7.1: Sri Lanka and the State of Palestine (reports due on 28 November 2018) and Tuvalu (report due by 28 August 2012).

B. Reporting by States Parties in the process of implementing core obligations under the Convention

(i) States Parties with stockpiled anti-personnel mines (Article 4)

No reports overdue.

(ii) States Parties with anti-personnel mines in mined areas (Article 5)

The following States Parties which have indicated having an obligation under Article 5 did not submit Article 7 reports in 2018:

- Eritrea
- Ethiopia
- Yemen

(iii) States Parties with anti-personnel mines retained for permitted purposes (Article 3)

9. There are 75 States Parties which have indicated retaining anti-personnel mines for the purposes permitted under Article 3.

¹ Two States that have recently acceded to the Convention - Palestine and Sri Lanka - may confirm that they have mine clearance obligations in their initial transparency report due under Article 7 of the Convention, should they do so, their Article 5 deadline would be 1 June 2028. In addition, Mozambique, since declaring completion in 2015, indicated that it has four suspected areas that remain underwater and that no intervention in these areas can be carried out at present.

² As of 1 October 2018.

10. Articles 7.1(d) and 7.2 of the Convention indicate that each State Party shall report on “the types, quantities and, if possible, lot numbers of all anti-personnel mines retained or transferred for the development of and training in mine detection, mine clearance or mine destruction techniques, or transferred for the purpose of destruction, as well as the institutions authorized by a State Party to retain or transfer anti-personnel mines, in accordance with Article 3,” an “update this information annually”.

11. Also, in Action #27 of the Maputo Action Plan States Parties committed to “annually report, on a voluntary basis, on the plans for and actual use of retained anti-personnel mines explaining any increase or decrease in the number of retained anti-personnel mines.”

12. In 2018, 28 States Parties did not submit updated information on the anti-personnel mines they retain under Article 3.

(v) States Parties which have indicated that they have significant numbers of landmine survivors

17. There are 29 States Parties that have indicated that they have significant numbers of landmine survivors.

18. While there is no article in the Convention pertaining to reporting on victim assistance, States Parties have been encouraged to report voluntarily on matters pertaining to compliance and implementation not covered by the formal reporting requirements contained in Article 7, for example activities undertaken with respect to Article 6, and in particular to report on assistance provided for the care and rehabilitation, and social and economic reintegration, of mine victims.

19. In addition, Action #13 of the Maputo Action Plan indicate that “based on its assessments, each State Party with mine victims in areas under its jurisdiction or control will do its utmost to communicate to the States Parties, including through its annual transparency report, as applicable, by 30 April 2015, time-bound and measurable objectives it seeks to achieve through the implementation of national policies, plans and legal frameworks that will tangibly contribute, to the full, equal and effective participation of mine victims in society. Every year, these objectives should be updated, their implementation monitored, and progress in implementing them reported to the States Parties.”

20. Action #14 of the Maputo Action Plan indicate that “based on its assessments, each State Party with mine victims in areas under its jurisdiction or control will do its utmost to communicate to the States Parties, including through its annual transparency report, as applicable, by 30 April 2015, enhancements that have been made or will be made to disability, health, social welfare, education, employment, development and poverty reduction plans, policies and legal frameworks needed to meet the needs of mine victims, and on budgets allocated for their implementation. Every year, efforts to implement these plans, policies and legal frameworks and their enhancements should be communicated to the States Parties.”
